Summit House, 12 Red Lion Square, Holborn, WC1R 4HQ

Location

Built in 1925 for the Austin Reed company, and situated a few minutes from Holborn tube on the picturesque Red Lion Square, it's a building that really stands out and gives us the opportunity to create something quite special.

Description

Originally built in 1925 as the Austin Reed head office, this building has a distinctly modern, art deco aesthetic and a beautiful façade. Just a few minutes away from Holborn station on Red Lion Square and now Grade II listed, the interior theme reflects the grandeur of the original exterior.

Working with Stockholm-based Note Design Studio, we've taken inspiration from the Swedish Grace movement that spanned the 1920s, offering us geometrical shapes, gridwork and tiered designs to play with. Complete with a recharge room and a fourth-floor roof terrace, Summit House offers a drop-in lounge, private offices, meeting rooms and events space in a timeless setting.
